

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

JOB POSTING - PART-TIME FACULTY

The Department of Criminal Justice, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Wayne State University, occasionally needs part-time instructors to teach courses. A list of the courses, and their descriptions, can be accessed online at <http://www.clas.wayne.edu/crj/>.

Please note that there may not be a teaching need for a particular course at any given time. In that case, we will keep your materials on file for two years should the need arise for a part-time instructor with your expertise.

If interested in being considered for a part-time teaching opportunity with the Department of Criminal Justice, please submit a cover letter, current curriculum vita / resume, and the names and contact information of three academic references. The cover letter should indicate the course(s) you are interested in teaching and your expertise for teaching the course(s). For courses numbered 1000--5000, the minimum educational level requirement is a Master's degree in criminal justice (or closely related field) or, for legal courses, a JD with relative work experience with a criminal justice agency. For 6000 level courses, a Ph.D. in criminal justice (or a closely related field) or, for legal courses, a JD with relative work experience with a criminal justice agency is required. For 7000 level courses, a Ph.D. in criminal justice (or a closely related field) is required.

Please forward questions and applications to:

Brad Smith, Ph.D., Interim Chair
Department of Criminal Justice
Wayne State University
3293 Faculty/Administration Building
Detroit, Michigan 48202
ag3416@wayne.edu (E-mail)

Criminal Justice offers B.S. and M.S. degrees to approximately 600 undergraduate and 40 graduate students.

Wayne State University is a premier institution of higher education offering more than 350 undergraduate and graduate programs through 12 schools and colleges to more than 33,000 students in Metropolitan Detroit. Wayne State is a Carnegie doctoral/research extensive university.